

Natural MarketPlace 2008

Sands Expo, Las Vegas

Join the natural products industry at Natural Products Association's 71st annual convention and trade show, Natural MarketPlace 2008.

Each year more than 7,500 natural products industry retailers, suppliers and professionals gather at Natural MarketPlace to connect with colleagues and friends, discover thousands of new products for stores and businesses, and learn from leading experts. With a trade show floor featuring nearly 600 booths filled with the latest natural products and services, plus our highly-rated educational program and special events and activities, Natural MarketPlace 2008 is a powerful learning, growth and networking opportunity.

As the only trade organization representing the entire natural products industry, we listen to what this community needs and want. The Natural MarketPlace program is designed by and for YOU, and all of its features and content are created based on input from natural products industry retailers and suppliers. Natural MarketPlace is a true industry experience you won't get at any other show.
